Some questions and answers about our S&H Green Stamps.

Q Do they really add up to anything?

A Try this for size: the average U.S. family food budget is $60 a week. Spent at our store, that money gets 600 Green Stamps a week. That's a full book every two weeks, two books a month. Enough to start picking out gifts in the S&H Ideabook right now!

Q Do you have to charge high prices to give me S&H Green Stamps?

A Absolutely not. Giving away Green Stamps is simply a way to attract new customers. It's a business expense we pay, just as we pay our rent, payroll and advertising. The difference is with Green Stamps, you benefit too.

And you can check our prices by shopping and comparing in other stores. If you've already done that, you know, give or take a special here and there, nobody beats our kind of prices for our kind of quality.

Q Can I get myself something besides towels, or another set of dishes?

A Yes. There are over 1,500 quality gifts in the S&H Ideabook. Appliances, jewelry, watches, luggage, sporting goods, and yes, towels. In short, the works. Beautiful brand name gifts. No waiting, so start saving now!

When you shop with us, you're saving every time you spend. S&H Green Stamps...the little extra that adds up to a lot!

Appomattox 4-H'ers Win Capital Trip

David Caldwell from Appomattox returned home from Washington, D. C., after completing Citizenship-Washington Focus - a week-long experience in citizenship at the National 4-H Center, July 15-21. David was one of 500 4-H'ers from Virginia and 7 other states participating in the program designed to help young people understand the structure and function of our system of government, the heritage of our country's development and prepare plans for active citizen involvement when they return home.

Using the nation's capitol as a "classroom," the program included a day on Capitol Hill to meet with members of Congress and see government in action. David met and talked with Fourth District Representative Robert Daniels and also sat in on the afternoon session of the House of Representatives. Field trips to historic and cultural sites as well as to federal agencies and community organizations were amoung the most informative and exciting parts of the week. Tours were conducted at such places as: The Kennedy Center, Arlington Cemetery, The Capitol, The White House, Smithsonian Institution, supreme Court and many other attractions including the major monuments in the mall area.

In workshop sessions at the National 4-H Center, young people discussed contemporary issues and concerns, and ways in which skills and knowledge gained during the week could be applied to the 4-H program in Appomattox. Public Speaking, leadership, eye care, and citizenship were emphasized at these meetings. One of the best parts of the experience was being able to share ideas with 4-H members across the country. Debates on national issues were conducted and different viewpoints were expressed from the various states.

Citizenship - Washington Focus is conducted by the National 4-H Council in behalf of the Cooperative Extension Service of the State Land-Grant Universities and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. David was selected to represent Virginia on the basis of overall county achievement. He was sponsored by the Mighty-Four 4-H Club, Evergreen 4-H Club, Teen Leader 4-H Club, and the County 4-H fund. Much thanks to each of these sponsors.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Caldwell of Appomattox.

Bennett Tri-State Public Speaking Winner

Paul S. Bennett, son of James and Barbara Bennett of Red House, has recently won the Tri-State FFA Public Speaking Contest. This contest was held on Thursday, August the ninth, at the Downtowner Motel in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. The contest consist of the state winning public speakers from, North Carolina, West Virginia, and Virginia in the National FFA Sponsered Contest.

Representing North Carolina was Karan Chavis of the Northern Nash FFA Chapter, from West Virginia John Corbet of the Hundred FFA, and winning the contest was Paul Bennett of the Randolph Henry FFA Chapter. The contest was held this year in conjunction with the North Carolina Agriculture Teachers Conference. Paul will now move into competition in the Southern Regional Contest. This contest will be held at the Eastern States Exposition Fair in West Springfield, Massachusetts in late September.

This is the first time an FFA member from Randolph Henry FFAChapter has advanced to the Regional contest in many years. Paul was accompanied to the contest by his parents Barbara and James Bennett, Gary Thomas, his FFA Advisor, and Richard Locke Southside Area Vice President of the Virginia Association of FFA. Paul delivered his speech before over 450 Agriculture Teachers across North Carolina. His speech was entitled "Beef an Unsure Situation" a consumer oriented speech about the fact that the farmer is not to blame for the high beef prices. Paul will be a freshman at VPI&SU this fall and major in Animal Science. His final goal as far as Public Speaking is to speak to over 15,000 FFA members at the National FFA Public Speaking Contest in Kansas City, Missouri in November.
